OUR LARGEST TAX-PAYER

Believes in a Fair Trial and a "Square Deal" for Incorporation.

EDITOR GLENDALE NEWS.

Dear Sir:—For good and sufficient reasons (from my standpoint), I was opposed to the incorporation of your beautiful city and fought the project vigorously to a losing finish. Now that we have it, let us not prematurely choke the life out of the young thing; let it live and have its being until such time as we are ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN that it should perish. Give it a "square deal!" Beware of passion and prejudice lest our judgment be warped to our detriment. If I am not mistaken, I am much the largest taxpayer within your corporate limits.

For the present, at least, I am STRENUOUSLY OPPOSED to disincorporation.

Very sincerely yours,
C. E. THOM.

November 28, 1906.

An Opinion Worth Consideration

I am absolutely opposed to disincorporation. It would be the worst step for Glendale that could be taken.—G. H. A. Goodwin, general manager Erkenbrecher Syndicate.

SHALL WE DISINCORPORATE?

The Opinions of Some of Our Citizens.

Mr. L. H. Hurtt:

"People who talk disincorporation are subjects ready for an insane asylum. Personally I am very much opposed to it. No sensible man would ever think of it under present circumstances because everything is going ahead, and such a movement as disincorporation would give the town the black eye for several years.

Why any man of good, common judgment should object to paying a few cents additional taxes, when his property is increasing three-fold under the city charter, is more than I can fathom. Why go back? Every town that has gone through the experience of disincorporation, so far as I know, is more than anxious to reincorporate, having seen their folly.

My experiences in the East have taught me that everywhere there are a few malcontents who would complain at a gold dollar at 90 cents, unless they owned it themselves, when they want $1.10 for it. A few funerals of such people would be desirable. Their motto is always "Rule or ruin!"

B. F. Patterson:

"No! No! No! It's 2 to 1! I say no emphatically because I know so well the result. We are sure of success this time. I have taken the register and gone over the list of names till I know how nearly every man stands. I have lived here so long that I am naturally acquainted with the opinions of the people who count. The vote to disincorporate at this time cannot carry. Why? Because they must have two-thirds majority of the total vote."

Mrs. L. A. Monroe:

"I should say most emphatically—no! We need improvements. We need sidewalks on Fourth street. If we disincorporate not a thing will be done, and several people whom I know are going to invest would declare the property valueless in case we disincorporate. It would soon put a stop to real estate sales and other business as well."

Mr. H. M. Overton:

"Disincorporate? No! If we do business property will not be worth half what it is now. Residence lots will decrease in proportion. The moral influences of the town will suffer if we disincorporate. We want a clean town, like Pasadena. We have the location and the energy, now let us exercise our will power and vote for incorporation and progress."

L. C. Wardell:

"Disincorporate? Well, if we do, we will be taken into the city. That simply would not do. It would kill Glendale. You will find that representative citizens are for progress, and we will never disincorporate."

Mr. J. C. Sherer:

"Shall we disincorporate? We shall not! If people will wait till we have the funds with which to do something they will see the benefits of incorporation. We will have walks, good roads, fire protection, etc. Am in favor of home rule, and believe that the money made here should be spent in this vicinity. If we disincorporate, it would soon be otherwise. It is said that it's only necessary to look at the result of incorporation in Alhambra, Covina, and Santa Ana to see beneficial results. Yes, the tax rates are higher somewhat. Can't have anything without paying for it. The slight increase of 15 cents on every one hundred dollars' valuation of property adds so little to expenses of the property as to be scarcely appreciable."

Robt. A. Blackburn:

There is no more chance of our disincorporating than there is of our flying! Why? I have talked with many whose names are on the petition and not one of them is willing to acknowledge that he will vote now for disincorporation. Except King, no one seems willing to follow the proposition. Values? There is no question but what they go down if we disincorporate."

J. L. Overton:

"I was in the East when I first heard of the movement to disincorporate. I then considered it a huge joke! Since my return have talked with half a dozen of those who signed the petition to disincorporate, and not one expects to vote for it now. In intercourse with the people of Glendale I have not found one person bold enough to say that he would vote for disincorporation."

Asa Fanset:

"I say no! We must not do it. At this time there should be no stepping backward, when we should be striving to go ahead. It would be a great mistake. I am very much against any such movement and am glad to say so."

A. L. Eves:

"No—we won't do it. It would ruin the chances for progress in Glendale. Have talked this over with many real estate men who say that the dealers in realty in Los Angeles and Pasadena would call attention to our lack of progress and simply coin the profits. They tried it on the water question. Have lived here for twenty odd years, and have noted that when men invest it is simply for the money they get out of it and these same people will never take steps to retard the growth of the town. Its what they live on."

Mrs. Orman Oak:

"Go back? What for? So people in surrounding towns will say we do not know what we want? Too much has been said already. It is doing Glendale real harm. What we want to do is to talk progress and not raise so much excitement over our affairs. We are not 'a parcel of kids,' you know."

Rev. L. S. Ward:

"No! We must not disincorporate! The city fathers have had as yet no chance to show what they can do. Give them a fair trial. It is only just."

Mrs. S. L. Westbrook:

"If I owned this whole block I would still say we want incorporation. You see there is something more than taxes to think of. This town will go under if we disincorporate. We will buy and build a home here soon if we stay incorporated. Have heard others say the same thing."

Mr. Noble:

"No, if this thing is done we go back. I have gone through disincorporation in Kansas and I know what it is. It kills a town. After that town reincorporated they had the best roads and best walks in the state."

Fred Hezmalhalch:

"The idea is this. We are depending upon outside people to come in and buy up our property. If this is so, the market must look staple. Nothing will move if we disincorporate. People will think we don't know what we want. Why, the harm of disincorporation would discount the good of incorporation. Outsiders will not move in here and buy when there is a turmoil like this on hand. Even a sorehead has a right to his own opinion, but if he wants to disincorporate, remove him. It is more important to stay incorporated than it was in the beginning to incorporate. Business already is blockading and if we take this backward step progress will be waylaid entirely. Why tear down what we have built?"

W. C. Fraley:

"Stay incorporated? Certainly, we are all alike on that score. What's the use of going back? We would lose on real estate values, and everything else. A man told me yesterday that he lost the sale of two lots on account of this talk. Disincorporation would be a regular black eye. What will the new people think? I know they will think the town is on the bum and you can just say it is not?"

BE CAREFUL HOW YOU VOTE!

If you are in favor of Glendale remaining an Incorporated City, place the cross in the same position as it is below. Remember that we are not voting on Incorporation but on Disincorporation and all our progressive citizens are certainly against changing our present position and thereby taking a step backward.

CITY TRUSTEES.

Trustees met December 5. Those present were Anderson, Jennings, Parcher, Watson.

Minutes of previous meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Demands as follows were referred to the finance committee: No. 99, from F. R. Sinclair in the sum of $17.50 for service as street superintendent in November; No. 100, from Independent Water Co. in the sum of $2.28 for water; No. 101, from Verdugo Pipe & Res. Co. in the sum of $5.12 for water; No. 102, from Campbell & Campbell in the sum of 95 cents for kerosene: No. 103 from the Glendale News in the sum of $10.50 for publishing ordinance No. 30; No. 104, from the Glendale News in the sum of $2.70 for publishing notice to taxpayers, and No. 105, from G. L. Murdock in the sum of $106 for map case.

Application for permit to do street work by O. W. Hanson was on motion allowed. Mr. C. D. Thom made application to have G. A. Wright set grade stakes on Livingston Tract, which was granted.

Bids on franchise on Fourth street were on motion opened, only two bids being received.

One by M. A. King for $200, accompanied by a certified check and one by the Interurban R. R. for $50 with certified check.

Being allowed by law to raise the bid 10 per cent. of the former bids, King then bid $250 and the Interurban raised it to $275. King then went to $300, whereupon a motion was made that the bids be closed. Then Mr. Haskins, the representative of the Interurban Railway, called the board's attention to the fact that King's last bid was not an advance of 10 per cent over the previous bid, as required by law. This being the fact, the Interurban Co. was awarded the franchise for $275. The board instructed the city clerk to return King his money, but when tender was made by the clerk, King refused to accept the money, thereby indicating that he intends to contest the awarding of the franchise.

Moved that the city attorney prepare the necessary papers to appoint E. R. Tarling, deputy license collector

A NOTICE

In the Post Office states that a pocket book containing a large sum of money has been lost.

It's "dollars to doughnuts" that if that man had been a depositor in the Bank of Glendale, he would not even have lost his check book. More than that, it is more dollars to more doughnuts that he finds the bank pretty soon after he finds that or any other money.

PRESBYTERIAN SALE.

The Ladies' Aid Society of First Presbyterian Church held a novel and sucessful sale on Saturday evening at Masonic Hall under the direction of Mrs. Dan Campbell.

The style of the entertainment was certainly most unique, and from its very novelty was a decided success.

Never did the Masonic Hall present a more attractive appearance. The platforms contained some handsome ferns and floral decorations. On the right of the hall was the old stone well, with canopy of graceful greenery. Here Miss Irene Ward was a flattering success as Rebecca, in a most fetching costume copied from an old print, with real Oriental stuffs in its make up. Miss Irene proved the popularity of punch beyond a doubt.

On the left was the ice-cream table, presided over by Mrs. S. Lawrence Ward; decorations were chrysanthemums and trailing ivy. Nearer the platform was the popular delicatessen counter, beautiful with heavy damask from the old country, in drawn work and embroidery. Glowing masses of poinsettas brightened the table where all clamored for dainties for Sunday's dinner. But, "sweetest" of all was the dainty Japanese booth, right in the center of the hall, presided over by Miss Waite, where home made candies disappeared like snow under an April sun. Bright streamers, candles pepper-boughs and gay Japanese decorations made up the attractive appearance of this booth. Most charming of all was the bevy of sweet girls, in gay kimonas and exaggerated pompadours, known as the live chrysanthemums.

The art gallery provided wholesome amusement to all who entered in. Hot coffee was sold throughout the evening. The program provided was arranged by Mrs. Campbell, and it alone was worth more than the price of admission.

Mr. Frank Albright, the Misses Williams, little Marjorie Imler, and Blythe Monroe were the participants, each receiving hearty encores. At the close of the happy evening three rousing cheers for Mrs. Campbell were called for and heartily given, when in a sweet and most charming manner she thanked those who had helped her. She had won the love and esteem of all who had supported her in giving this affair, and hearts were full of admiration for her at the close of her successful venture. $77.05 was the gross receipts.

SOMETHING NEW.

For three days, Monday, December 17th, Tuesday, December 18th, and Wednesday, December 19th, there will be one of the most unique and interesting sales ever held in the valley. The Ladies' Aid societies of the various churches are to take charge of the "Glendale Store," each society having one day, and getting a certain percentage of the cash sales for that day. This goes into the treasuries of the aid societies and is clear profit, as all that is donated is the work and enterprise of the ladies having the matter in charge.

It has been suggested that the women urge their friends to save their cash orders for the day taken up by their own church; a week's orders can as well be taken as the order for one day if housekeepers will so plan to help their individual society that much. There will be a corps of able and courteous demonstrators each day, representing Heinz's 57 varieties, one from Snider's, The M. J. B. Tea House, Newmark Coffee and many others.

An exhibit of pure foods and new foods has been arranged that is the best ever. Another thing to remember, each day there will be something attractive on sale at a very special discount, and all will wish to take advantage of the opportunity to lay in a supply of such foods as are offered in this way. This is the Christmas donation of the "Glendale Store" to their friends and patrons, and already the various aid societies are showing an eager interest, and appreciation of the affair. Remember the days: there will be a Baptist Monday, a Methodist Tuesday, and a Presbyterian Wednesday, December, 17th, 18th, and 19th.

Don't forget that life will not be complete without a pair of those Red School House shoes sold by Noble Brothers.

Los Angeles Times Makes Scurrilous Attack on Glendale

In a garbled misrepresentation Friday morning's Times gives an account of what it claims to be the situation in Glendale as to incorporation and things in general. The Times reporter (evidently being inspired by one King) falsely and maliciously holds Glendale and its progressive citizens up to the ridicule of the public. The statements in the Times are so ridiculously unfair and so apparently malicious, that it is not worth while going into a detailed denial of its assertions, as any one with common reason can easily see the animus back of it all. Glendale citizens should not allow this "dirty fling" of the Times to pass without giving that paper's managers to understand that they will not stand for such vile and uncalled for attacks and that unless that paper makes a retraction of its statements of Friday, they will withdraw their patronage from it. No paper or person has a right to hold up a respectable people in the dirty and untruthful manner in which the Times held up Glendale citizens on Friday.

SHALL WE DISINCORPORATE?

G. H. Barager:

"Am decidedly for incorporation. It's better for business, for everything. Why go back after starting in? It may be hard the first year on account of a little extra expense, but afterward it's sure to be right. It costs something, but one gets it all back. A business man expects to do that way always. We want improvements and fire protection."

Mr. C. D. Campbell:

"Disincorporate? No, no! Because it's best for the place to have incorporation. It means more business, more money, more improvements, more everything that's good. People are coming in here now. If we disincorporate they are sure to go elsewhere. If we disincorporate they are sure to go elsewhere. Shall invest in property here soon. If we disincorporate? Not much, well I guess not. Not one cent's worth."

W. J. Jones:

"The best thing to do is to let the incorporation alone. I have always worked hard for it, believing it to be the only thing that will help us to grow as we should. We must all work "for the good of Glendale" always. It's the only way."

J. E. Johnson:

"No! No sane person even thinks of it. Incorporation is the best thing for the welfare of our community. Let us leave things as they are. Am not a property owner, but have been in business here, and would say to disincorporate would just spoil the town. It would be too many steps backward."

M. A. Rogers:

"Am most emphatically against disincorporation. I came to Glendale as a good prospective point, one main reason being that this was a city, and would therefore, I considered, grow faster than if not incorporated. There must always be a head to any enterprise to make a success of it, and I think that under the present city government Glendale has advanced in residences, and real estate values one hundred per cent more than if it had not been incorporated. When people wish to invest here they invariably ask 'Are you incorporated? We want lights and fire protection.' When we say 'yes,' they are much more favorable to buy. Any man or woman of good business judgment knows that the value of their investments are greatly enhanced when their privileges as a resident are protected."

Mrs. F. G. Taylor:

"What? Go back into the 'bresh?' There would be more truth than fiction in that if we disincorporate. If we do we simply cease to exist and that's all there is to it. Everybody who thinks knows it's all nonsense, any way."

F. H. Vesper:

"It is not a step backward, but a whole lot of them! We are going to sense the advantage of city improvements soon. Walks will be built where they are most needed. Those which we have are as a rule built where the promoters saw fit to build them. If we do not disincorporate we can soon shape things as we want them, and walks will be built where they should be as well as about lots which are for sale. Oiling of the streets will follow in a proper manner. If we should wish now to oil Glendale avenue it would have to be done perhaps by popular subscription. We need fire and police protection. So many new people are moving in that we must protect them or they will not stay. I am surprised that we have among us enough people to raise this petition, and I am sure they have done it thoughtlessly. Those who own the larger tracts of land may wish to avoid taxes, yet why should they do so when the increase is less than one-fourth of 1 per cent, which is entirely out of proportion of the benefits derived under the circumstances."

TROPICO.

M. M. Eshelman and wife entertained their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Keefer and daughter, Azusa, Miss Hazel and Jeanette Kindig, grandchildren, and Miss Tootie Barclay, all of Redondo, over Saturday and Sunday.

On Monday evening electric lights went out in Tropico and Glendale, owing to damage done to high voltage wires during the recent storm. Repairs were completed Tuesday morning.

Mr. Henry Heid and Mr. Boynton have subdivided twenty-two acres on the south side of Moore avenue. Some of the lots command the finest view in Tropico. Reposia Court will be opened up to the tract, the street being put clear through.

There are at present numerous calls for houses for rent in Tropico. It is said that a dozen such houses, if built at once, would rent immediately.

Mr. Brenner from Santa Barbara arrived in Tropico Tuesday to take charge of the engineering of the pumping plant of Forest Lawn Cemetery Association. He expects to build a home here in the near future.

Mr. J. Metzger of San Jose was guest of Mr. J. A. Miller the past week.

Mr. Fisher, a motorman on the Pacific Electric R. R., is on the sick list at his home on Glendale avenue.

To honor her daughter, Miss Eulalie, and her friend, Miss Alta Stone, who are students in Stanford University, Mrs. E. W. Richardson has issued invitations for a grand Christmas ball to be given in Logan Hall on the evening of December 21st. Blanchard's orchestra is to furnish the music.

Mr. George Goff has just moved into his newly completed house on Magnolia avenue.

BURBANK.

Mrs. John Radcliff has as her house guest the Misses Hays of Topeka, Kansas.

Miss Flora Kughen returned to Occidental Monday after spending the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Kughen.

Mrs. John Luttge entertained her mother, Mrs. Case of Westminster during the week.

Hardy Riddell accompanied by his friend, Mr. Cummings, of Lancaster, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riddell.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ogier departed Friday for Kansas, where they intend making their future home.

A basket ball of much interest was played at the Burbank court on Wednesday afternoon between the third team of the Glendale High and Burbank Grammar, resulting in a score of 53—5 in favor of Glendale. The Burbank boys displayed better team work for the short time they have been playing than Glendale. This is the first game that Burbank has played against an outside team and the boys are not at all discouraged as they have another game in view in which they will not lower their colors. Prof. Tower of Glendale refereed and Prof. Webb umpired the game.

Will Copleman of Iowa is visiting with his brother, Ed Copleman, and family.

H. Kirkpatrick purchased the first of the week 10 lots in block 52 on Cahuenga avenue.

D. O. Shields is building on to his house on Cahuenga avenue, which is occupied by his brother.

Miss Nellie Cartwright has returned from spending the Thanksgiving vacation with her parents of Toluca.

Charley Brown returned to his home at Piru the first of the week after a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown.

Charley Beal returned home Thursday after a week's absence on business in Nevada.

The Good Templars gave a social at the I. O. F. Hall on Friday evening. All enjoyed the good program and refreshments.

Geo. Wood took in the prize fight on Wednesday evening last, and he was lucky enough to get in the first row. That's what comes of having good friends like Jim Jeffries for instance.

Miss Lucille Wilson has returned home after visiting friends in Los Angeles.

Mrs. J. L. Robison and daughter spent Friday and Saturday with relatives at Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Purrier have returned home after spending Thanksgiving with relatives at Corona.

Christmas Announcement

. . . FOR THE . . .

Baptist, Methodist

. . . AND . . .

Presbyterian Churches

A THREE DAYS SPECIAL DEMONSTRATION and CASH SALE under their auspices and FOR THEIR BENEFIT.

As our Christmas contribution this year to the respective churches of Glendale, we have placed our store at their disposal for the three days of December 17, 18 and 19 and they will have full charge and a percentage of all the store's cash sales during that time.

By mutual consent the days selected by each denomination are as follows:

BAPTIST--Monday, Dec. 17
METHODIST--Tuesday, Dec. 18
PRESBYTERIAN--Wed., Dec. 19

For their benefit you are urged to condense as much cash buying into those three days as you can consistently see your way clear to do, for out of every purchase you make you are aiding the church of your choice to earn just that many dollars for their day.

For detailed plans ask any of the members of the various Ladies Aid Societies.

Keep the date in mind and let us all work together to give the Churches a rousing benefit.

During these days a special corps of demonstrators will be in attendance and as a scientific exposition of pure foods and new developments along those lines, it will be well worth your while to be in attendance.

Trained demonstrators for the following lines will be present: Heinz Preserves, Soup and Pickles; Snyder's Baked Beans; Instantaneous Tapioca, Sanitarium Products, M. J. B. Tea and Special Ooffee; Newmark Bros. Coffee, Bishop's Cup Chocolate and next week we may be able to announce a couple of others.

As much of a success as our "At Home" of last July was, this will be far in the lead in every way. Our store is better equipped and our stock more complete.

By ths way, there will be several special "bargain" tables where certain lines of goods will be on sale at figures that are genuine "cut prices" and of such articles as are in daily demand by every housewife.

Come around, enjoy yourself, visit with your friends and out of the goodness of your heart give the ladies a helping hand—they are doing all they can to make it both a memorable and profitable occasion.

We will endeavor to do our part by having on hand an abundance of the things you will want to buy.

RECOLLECT THE ALLOTTED DAYS:

BAPTIST—Monday, Dec. 17

METHODIST—Tuesday, Dec. 18

PRESBYTERIAN—Wednerday, Dec. 19

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Owing to lack of space, many interesting events were crowded out of this issue, but will appear in our next.

Hot baked beans and Boston brown bread. Something different every day. Hot tea and coffee any time you want it.

Miss Florence Hoffman, who is attending school in Los Angeles, spent the holiday season in Glendale with her parents.

Try our hot meat pie. Have you had our baked beans for luncheon? Our sliced ham is delicious with home made bread.

Mr. Grant, who recently sold his property on K street, will put a twenty-five hundred dollar house in the new Livingstone tract.

Mrs. E. C. Merrit of Second street has been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. James McClain and baby daughter, of Green Meadows, near Los Angeles, for the past few weeks.

Mr. Edward H. Weston, who has been residing at Mrs. G. Stegeman's the past six months, has moved into his home on Tenth street. Mr. Weston is a brother-in-law of J. H. Seaman.

The W. F. M. Society will hold their regular monthly meeting in the S. S. day school room of the M. E. church on Tuesday afternoon, December 11th, at 2 o'clock. All members are expected to be present and all who are interested, especially strangers, are cordially invited to meet with us.

Mrs. E. M. Huckins, aunt of J. A. Farrill, entertained at the Hotel Alexandria on Wednesday with a beautifully appointed dinner of several courses, to honor Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Farril. The table was beautifully arranged and decorted with fluffy chrysanthemums, and the viands were seasonable and delicious. Mrs. Huckins has since returned to the Presidio, Monterey.

Mr. Will Trimble, formerly with Rock Island-Frisco lines, of Los Angeles, left Sunday evening via Salt Lake for Kansas City to accept position as private secretary for the Gen. Traffic Manager of the Mo. Pac. R. R. Mr. Trimble is the third member of the family who has held this responsible position, he having had two brothers who held the position before him.

The property holders living along C street believe in street improvement. When the walks now being laid are completed there will be a continuous walk on the west side from First to Seventh street, the longest stretch of walk in town, with the possible exception of Brand Boulevard. From First street to Third street palms and blask acacias are being set out. If people would get busy setting out fine shade trees, beautifying lawns and otherwise improving their homes and the town there would not be so much time left to kick.

Last week Mrs. Steven Gascoigne on E street, near Fifth, took out a warrant for Reta Lynch for the theft of a coat, a fur cape and one shirt waist. The warrant was placed in the hands of the constable, Chas. Catlin, who arrested the Lynch girl in Los Angeles. She was brought to Glendale and given a hearing before the recorder, Chas E. Stanley, and discharged for lack of proper evidence. In justice to the girl, it might be said that the stolen articles were returned to Mrs. Gascoigne by express from Los Angeles.

Through Charles Stanley, the sale of property owned by Sarah C. Ogg on Fifth street, near A, was effected Monday. The home was bought by Mr. — Morton, Fort Worth, Texas, who recently bought out the drug business of J. E. Johnson.

Mr. Morton has two sons living in Los Angeles, one of whom is a very prominent lawyer, who ran for attorney general in Los Angeles.

Glendale extends to these newcomers a hearty welcome.

At the Baptist Church Sunday, December 9th, the subject of morning sermon will be "Christ dealing with would-be disciples." In the evening the pastor will speak of "Preparing for great things." Morning service at 11, evening at 7:30. Come and we will make you welcome.

W. F. STONE, Pastor.

DARK TOWN.

Rehearsals for the dark-town show and cotton ball to take place in the Glendale skating rink, Dec. 12th, are coming on finely. Even now it can be seen the show will be a grand success from an artistic and classical view-point, and there is no doubt as to the amusement it will furnish all who love a good coon show, for this portion has not been neglected. The minstrels are ready with seasonable jokes and songs, and laughter and fun are assured. Already handsome gowns have been built for the occasion and nothing will be left undone to make the show a magnificent success. Seldow have the participants of a show rallied from so many towns as are coming to show appreciation of Claudia Hazen White. The handsome programs are ready, and contain the list of names of patronesses and of those who are on the reception committee.

Win the pound cake and have it for Christmas. The first prize cake will be a beauty, built high and piled with frosting. It will weigh ten pounds.

The second prize cake is yours for the trying. Sugar and spice and things that's nice, inside all that frosting. It will weigh four pounds exactly.

The five dollar gold piece goes for the handsomest cotton gown, that don't look like cotton. Are you the winner?

SHALL WE DISINCORPORATE?

E. D. Goode:

To disincorporate at this time would advertise us as a community emulating the eastern tumble bug that always travels backward. Such a step in the backwoods of Arkansaw would not be surprising, but for any portion of Los Angeles County to seriously contemplate such a proposition is preposterous.

Ever since Glendale was incorporated, property values have been increasing at a surprising rate and sales have been numerous to a high class, progressive, up to date people, but since a few malcontents, some of which unfortunately inhabit every community, have raised the question of disincorporating, property values have been at a standstill, and many important transactions are tied up now awaiting our decision in this important matter. If we should acknowledge by our vote next Tuesday that we are a helpless set of mossbacks, then we may expect to be shunned by progressive people as they would shun a pest house full of small pox patients, and we could then sit around the pool rooms that would undoubtedly be re-established, smoke our pipes in peace, while our boys could shoot jackrabbits on our many vacant lots.

Dr. A. L. Bryant:

No; it's not for the best good of our community! It would kill our future. Certainly anyone, it seems to me, can see it would be a retrogression from all points of view.

There are always a few careless ones who think it does not matter whether they take the trouble to vote or not. Don't forget that it's your vote that counts.

Elias Ayres:

No indeed! Why incorporation is a good thing. If it were not, why do cities all over our United States incorporate? Nothing can be properly run without a head. We cannot progress if we go back.

Mr. Frank Campbell:

Of course, at first I was rather indifferent to incorporation, but now I think disincorporation would be the worst possible mistake! Incorporation is decidedly a great benefit to the whole valley. We had better let it alone.

Rev. C. R. Norton:

No—very emphatically no. It is most unwise to even think of it. I am sorry the matter has been agitated because of the harm it has done the community. The prosperity of Glendale demands incorporation. We have been so handicapped that there has been no opportunity for those having our city matters in charge to show what they could do. It is not that they have lacked enterprise. Give them time to get accustomed to city governing. In talking with a resident who lives below Brand Boulevard, I found that, though he had signed the petition calling for an election to disincorporate he intends to vote for incorporation. As things are now, he sees things in a very different light than formerly.

Edgar Leavitt:

One of the worst things that could possibly happen to us. It would throw us so far back! There would be nothing doing. The people are moving in here with the understanding that this is an incorporated town, they would become disgruntled if we disincorporated. We want others to come and spend money building homes. Incorporation gives the chance to spend our money within the city's limits for the benefit of people living inside the limits. We can now control our institutions, etc. This offers an inducement to those who like such things. Now, we have a clean, nice, respectable town and it's up to us to keep it so. Even though the town should grow in event we disincorporate, it would become increasingly difficult to keep our moral standard without city government. Our taxes are no higher than is paid for outside territory, and only a sixth and two-thirds of our taxes are extra on account of the incorporation, while the advantages are many fold.

Should we ultimately go into Los Angeles, incorporation is the best preparation we can have for it, as it gives Glendale a chance to vote by itself whether it shall go in, when, and how, instead of being lumped in with other territory that might vote us in against our will. We can well afford to wait and see waht annexation will do for Tropico, and Eagle Rock, when, if it works well, we can consider going in. It seems to me it will give Glendale an advantage in being a high-toned, independent, and self-governing locality just outside of Los Angeles city limits."

R. C. Sternberg:

No, don't know as I care to see disincorporation. What I want to see is the street work done. It's what we need, all right, and if we get it quicker as a city, why stay incorporated! Glendale is a beautiful spot, but it does need street improvements and any one in my business will tell yo that street improvement is the whole thing.

E. T. Byram:

No—unless the people want free whiskey and all that goes with it! Another thing, should we do this, every man will put his walks, his trees, etc., anywhere he happens to want them. What kind of a looking town will that make? The great feature of incorporation is general improvement of streets, and if there is here and there a man not willing to make improvements we can make him.

Such trustees as we need and want we can now get. Give the town a chance. The many legal holidays hindered enterprise, and anyway, one must expect things to move rather slow when we are so new in experience as an incorporated town.

F. Gilman Taylor:

Shall we disincorporate? Why, it's perfectly absurd to even think of such a thing! No sane person here is anxious for the results that would follow. And it's ridiculous to even talk about it, for it would knock the bottom out of everything in the way of progress. It would simply be suicide for Glendale.

L. D. Bates:

If we disincorporate, we may as well close up. I wish I had ten votes instead of one.

T. Watson:

No, No! Why the very fact that there are thousands of dollars worth of street work, already ordered, to be paid for by property owners, which is held back now awaiting results, is enough to convince a child.

As fo rannexation, we don't need Los Angeles to help us grow. I see no reason for us to lose our identity and be without our own government. Can the city assume more obligations toward giving newly-annexed territory protection? Not much. More than fifty per cent of their population, miles of blocks, is without adequate police protection now.

Mr. James Wells:

No—I think surely that those opposed are living in outside territory and do not properly understand. Now we have incorporation, stick to it! We shall never be anything without it. Taxes may be alittle higher, but the benefits derived are out of proportion of extra expenses. We would not get proper treatment from Los Angeles. As for this election, I do not at all fear results.

W. G. Watson:

I say no! Of course all the arguments are being well thrashed out. Some complain that nothing is being done. These are people to have their one lot improved when the whole street must be graded. Others say we could not annex to Los Angeles without disincorporation. It's a mistake, as it's quite possible for us to maintain our incorporation and still be taken into the city to all the extent that is necessary.

The main point in annexation is to pull the water out of Owens river, which would be a Godsend to the whole country. Real estate is being depressed and real harm done. As an example, a party agreed to buy; when told of this disincorporation movement said he would not settle where people could not pull together and the sale was lost.

Edgar W. Rack:

No, I know, because I am in business here and can see things. Was not in favor of incorporation just at first, but am now decidedly in favor of it. I know of three good houses which were going up, but now will wait until this is settled. Disincorporation is a big mistake clear through.

During the seven months that we have been incorporated two months have been legal holidays, when nothing at all could be done. Many have the idea that people in outlying districts pay for inside improvements, when really the property owners pay. The expenses of improvements are charged up to the individual.

E. S. Comstock:

Disincorporate? No! I cannot see how anyone with any mind could vote to undo what they have just done, before there has been any chance to show results of incorporation. As long as we are able to exercise our common sense, let us not allow our necks to be collared by a few who are disgruntled and have only selfish motives. There is no more show of our being disincorporated than of our being annexed to Los Angeles. Not every man who signed that petition is responsible for what he does. It is better for us to be a city than to annex. If anyone wants to live in Los Angeles, let him move down there. After the sky is cleared, Glendale is going to know more prosperity than she has ever known before.

Chas. E. Stanley:

What? Shall we disincorpoate? Do I look like a man right out of the woods? Not a man who wants this thing done has other than selfish motives. They won't win out. It's not possible. There are not enough of them. There are many here whose property has doubled in value since incorporation.

F. W. McIntyre:

No! We want to take no chances with the prosperity of Glendale. I have not heard a person say that disincorporation would be a benefit to the community. Improvements benefit everybody and people ought to wait till there is a chance to show what can and will be done.

Mr. — Simpson:

No, we must not! It would be stepping backward. How can we amount to anything if we are not willing to stayincorporated and be progressive. I've seen towns with jackrabbits on the streets or lawns. We don't want a jackrabbit town. What we want is order, improvements and protection. In towns not incorporated there is no uniformity or life, they are dead places. Certainly it would be a very great mistake.

Dr. D. W. Hunt:

No—it would be foolish to disincorporate now that we have incorporated. Of course at first I was not in favor of incorporation, but now I feel that it is best to stay as we are. There are many things we could have done with proper trustees in our improvement association. But now we can have police and fire protection I should think. Things are not run in a democratic way in these days and we must do the best we can. As for making a man keep up improvements, I can say that a man who has to be made is a very poor citizen anyhow.

Mr. Frank Albright:

No; we don't want to disincorporate. Was not infavor of incorporation at first, but now that it is done, why, let it alone.

M — Cole:

I do not live in the locality interested, but am doing business here and may as well say to stay incorporated if it will bring street improvements. I am for anything that will bring annexation to Los Angeles,though, and would vote for that one hundred times if I could.

C. M. Lund:

Nc—what's the use? Incorporation is apparently a good thing, and we may as well stay as we are. At first was rather opposed to the scheme, but for one I don't believe in changing conditions every other day.

T. O. Pierce:

No; after this trouble has cleared away there will be a great change in Glendale. We shall see more prosperity here in the near future than ever before. Let us keep to the right way. No right-minded person believes in going backward. We shall soon be known as a prosperous city.

I have lived here two years now. The first eight months there was next to nothing doing. This last eight months the town has grown like a mushroom. Draw your own conclusions.

WOMAN'S CLUB CONVENTION.

The sixth annual convention of the Los Angeles District and California Federation of Women's Clubs met at the Ebell Club house in Los Angeles, November 20, 21, 22, Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, the district president, presiding. Mrs. Robert Potter Hill, president of the California Federation, won admiration by her lovable personality and capable and clear-headed estimate of matters pertaining to club work.

At the opening session on Wednesday morning the Rev. Warren F. Day, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, offered the invocation and Mrs. P. G. Hubert, the cultured president of the Ebell Club, whom we are to hear in Glendale, extended to the convention a cordial welcome, which was gracefully responded to by Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, district president.

Forty-one of the fifty clubs of the district were represented and reports from the same showed a wonderful variety of work and study undertaken. The following are some of the subjects: Art, forestry, Arbor Day, San Francisco sufferers, plants indigenous only to Catalina and adjacent islands, music, literature, domestic science, current events, review of magazine articles and books, juvenile courts, child study circles, manual training, civil service, travel, Indians and missions, marine life, bird study, health food, Panama canal and many other topics.

The East Whittier club is incorporated and has a club home. The Friday Morning Club, which numbers one thousand members, was founded by Caroline M. Seymour Severance, "The Mother of Clubs," who is president emeritus of that club and who founded the first club—the New England Club—in 1868. The Ebell Club owns its own beautiful new club house, which, with furnishings, cost twenty-two thousand dollars. Glendale reported a larger amount raised for the San Francisco sufferers than any club in the district, and in every particular the half dozen members who attended the convention from Glendale had reason to be proud of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Mrs. Cowles of Los Angeles, past president of the State Federation, told of the splendid and helpful work being done in the club world.

The State President appreciated the letters of sympathy and substantial contributions received from all over the country after the San Francisco earthquake, and told of much suffering which the city clubs were thus enabled to ameliorate, and of the help and comfort which they gave to distant friends inquiring for loved ones.

Mrs. Barr impressed the importance of protecting and fostering forest growth on the ground of health and rainfall, birds should be spared, forest streams kept pure and campers instructed how to build fires with the minimum of danger.

Mrs. Forbes told of the erection by the history and land marks committee, of iron columns surmounted by bells; on each of these is placed "El Camino Real" (the king's highway) to call attention to this historic thoroughfare, trodden by the mission padres, and which is being thus named and marked by the block system, by the proper road authorities, when thus requested. Twenty bells, seven of which are in Los Angeles, have already been erected by the women and are to be placed in Los Angeles district along this remarkable thoroughfare, extending from San Diego to San Francisco. In this connection Miss Hawes, a musical genius of Boston, who has had rare opportunities in her personal intercourse with some of the foremost European composers, suggested crowning the City of Angels with a chime of bells which shall waft harmony across the broad Pacific to the nations of the world.

Mrs. Barnum displayed keen insight into human nature and right humanitarian impulses in her vivid description of Los Angeles slums, of which the city claimed there were none until various authorities of national reputation identified them. Mrs. Barnum spoke of the great need in these quarters and the heroic work of the settlement nurse here and lamented that so much of beauty and goodness as often found among these people should be lost to the world.

Dr. J. Titian Coffey gave from a scientific standpoint a paper on the safe and humane treatment of tuberculosis patients coming to our state.

Mrs. Robert J. Burdette, president of Associated Charities and introduced as the "Mother of California federation," indorsed this paper and said that she had sent out thirty thousand circulars pertaining to this subject.

It was suggested that women hasten the enforcement of the city ordinance providing for the protection of food stuffs exposed for sale by refusing to buy any not so protected from flies, dust and disease germs.

GLENDALE DELEGATE.

MR. AND MRS. HEZMALHALCH RETURN.

Among the Glendale people who enjoyed trips east, this past summer, it is doubtful if any had a more pleasant or wonderful trip than Mr. and Mrs. T. Hezmalhalch, who have recently returned to their home.

They visited Salt Lake the first week in September, hunting up every spot of historical interest, before they departed for Denver, where they were delightfully entertained by J. P. Hezmalhalch, who is the chief clerk of the government land department at the capital. The brothers had not heard from each other for twenty-six years until last spring, when they met by accident. After three weeks visit, Mr. Hezmalhalch became interested in mission work in Denver, Pueblo and Colorado Springs, when he was called to Zion City to hold evangelistic services for three weeks. He then went to Chicago to preach two weeks more. His work was wonderfully blessed wherever he was used. With his wife he visited Golden, Cripple Creek, and went over the world-famed Moffat road. They report that it is quite true that this is "the trip that bankrupts the English language." No one could describe the grandeur or the beauty or the wonder of it all. The walls of Gore canyon are so precipitous that in locating the line it was necessary to lower the engineers from the summit by ropes for a distance of hundreds of feet.

They enjoyed crossing the backbone of the American continent, where the magnificence of the scenery was sublime.

They attended the Pike Centennial celebration at Colorado Springs and heard Vice President Fairbanks and Governor McDonald, also Henry A. Buchtel, who delivered the principal address at the unveiling of the Pike monument in Antlers Park. The formal christening of the Peak was a new thing under the sun. There was the mountain that had been doing business under the name of Pike's Peak for some sixty years, yet, complications arising, it had to be officially dubbed. So a bottle was smashed over its snowy old brow, whereupon the frosty old mountain continued to look just as unconcerned and oblivious to the honors thrust upon it as it has looked for the last tens of thousands of years.

One of the chief features of the occasion was the singing of the "Ode to Colorado" by thousands of voices.

THE TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN BAZAAR.

On Friday evening occurred the long talked of bazaar, given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of First Presbyterian Church, and was voted a decided success on every side. The Logan Hall was tastefully decorated with pepper boughs, and the booths were all in white and green, which combined with the many lights, made a pretty scene. Most of the articles on which the ladies have been sewing for months, were sold. The Jack Horner pie vied with the handsome doll booth for popularity, and had to be replenished from time to time. Mrs. Hobbs, as president of the society, said that their success lay largely in the willingness and friendliness of those who had worked together so faithfully all summer long. Each had certainly done her best. On Sunday the pastor praised their efforts not more than the beautiful unison which has existed among them for so long.

In an adjoining hall, a home cooked supper was served during the evening, and netted a handsome profit. Altogether, the proceeds amounted to something more than two hundred dollars.

Following are the names of heads of departments:

Mrs. John Logan, the doll booth.
Mrs. Dr. Conrad, the 10 cent counter.
Mrs. Maxwell, the apron booth.
Mrs. Collins, fancy work booth.
Mrs. Huff, candy counter.
Mrs. Imler, ice cream tables.
Mrs. Webster and Mrs. Malcolm, the Jack Horner pie.
Mrs. Stevenson, cashier.
Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Davenport, the supper room.

TOLUCA.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church will hold their annual fair and supper at the school house Saturday, December 15th, afternoon and evening. Don't fail to show up with your pockets full of "dough."

The Los Angeles-Pacific engineers have run two surveys over the Cahuenga Pass from Hollywood into this valley. It's coming. Watch us grow.

The Lankershim Improvement Association organized last Saturday evening with A. McCormick, president, and C. H. Prince, secretary. Much interest was shown and we feel confident that we can look for "something doing" from the gentlemen that have joined themselves to this association. Regular meetings are to be held. Watch out for the next.

Please make a special effort to get out to the Farmers' Institute, to be held at the school house Tuesday afternoon and evening, December 11th, for it would be a shame to have these different outside speakers come here and no one to listen. These meetings have proven a great benefit to the ranchers and we need a little information of that sort right here right now. Don't forget.

Still improvements are going on. F. B. Sherwin is adding 4 neat rooms to his cottage. L. W. Gregg has received a car of lumber to enlarge his home. Henry Brechtel and C. A. Blix have each put on additions to their home. A. J. Gwynn has commenced the construction of his beautiful ten-room modern home. A. McCormick and family have just moved into their new $2500 home on Fourth street. The Bakman and Chiarodit homes will be completed next week.

We have an idea that the next council and mayor of Los Angeles will be more friendly to the San Fernando valley on the water proposition. Harper is an old resident of the city and ought to know a thing or two about the conditions out here. But it depends how bad he is "tied up" with the push. We are hoping for better things from the coming city administration and we wish they could find it out.

BEGINNING TO DO THINGS.

Editor Glendale News:

It is said in times of peace prepare for war. That proposition holds good in other things besides war. It is seed time now, let us prepare to plant, and in planting right, we will plant for the future generation.

We are glad in the knowledge that our city is ready to begin to "do things" as soon as the vote on disincorporation is taken—of course with the strongest kind of conviction that it cannot carry. We are compelled to go through with the farce of voting on the question because a certain few desired it and inasmuch as some people would never have been satisfied until it went to a vote. I am firm in the conviction it will be the very best thing for the city, for it will start us off on a very much firmer foundation than before. The fact also of Tropico likely to be taken into Los Angeles makes it that much better for Glendale. For then we will be the first suburban city on the north of Los Angeles. Right at the very gates of Los Angeles—reaping all the practical benefits that Tropico will, without the burden of extra taxation for the payment of numerous municipal bonds, besides maintaining our distinctive identity, which means everything to us.

Now there is only one way to plant, to make Glendale prosperous and beautiful, and that is by joining hands and all working together—having no east or west ends, no north or south sides, but one grand whole, and working at all times for the greatest good to the greatest number.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." How shall we make Glendale a "joy forever?" Those of you living here already know of its natural beauty, its beautiful mountains and rugged hills for a background, but we need something to make it still more beautiful, and what will do it better than a park, and a uniformity of shade trees on our streets?

We will soon have Glendale avenue graded, curbed and side-walked from First street to Sixth street. Also Second street from Brand boulevard to "A" street, as well as Fourth street from Brand boulevard to A street. First and Third street will soon follow.

My proposition is this: Why not begin with each one of these streets and set out a systematic line of shade trees on each street? The question will be asked how will you do it to make them systematic and uniform? My answer is this: I believe it is in the province of the Board of Trustees to require every property owner to set out a certain number of trees in front of each lot he may own, and that being the case, it surely would be in the province of the board to establish the line on which they should be set, thus establishing their uniformity, and also to designate the kind of trees to be set on each street. It being better for the sake of variety and beauty of the city to have different trees, but to have the trees on any one street all alike.

Now, good people, what would you say to this idea, that the Board of Trustees, acting in conjunction with a committee of citizens should designate the kind of trees to be set on any one or all of our streets, how far from the curb line of each street to make perfect lines, and then set apart two days this winter at different time as tree planting days, and everybody "shut up shop" and plant trees. What kind of a transformation do you think we would have in five years? One can scarcely imagine it, and yet it can be done. Not only set apart a day for tree planting, but set apart a day for hoeing out the weeds and rubbish along the sidewalks. I believe this is a philanthropic and practical way of doing this. The fever would be catching, and the one who found his neighbor "all slicked up by gosh" would try it himself. What say you, good people; have you a better plan?

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A Farmers' Institute will be held at Burbank in the hall of the brick block Monday, Dec. 10th.

During the morning session Mr. S. Fairburn of Burbank will tell about the most profitable decidious fruits to grow in the San Fernando valley. He will be followed by Mr. J. B. Neff of Anaheim, who will emphasize the need of green manure crops and how to grow them, after which a basket luncheon will be served in the hall. At the afternoon session incubators and brooders will be explained by the noted expert, Chas. Cline of Burbank. Scientific poultry feeding will be the time of a paper by Dr. S. S. Twombly, of San Luis Obispo. At the evening session Prof. H. P. Webb of Burbank will give a talk on elementary agriculture in the schools. Miss B. S. Angier of Los Angeles will give a dissertation specially for ladies. The usual question box will be a feature of each session.
